DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

The declaration filed on January 27, 2006 under 37 CFR 1.131 has been considered but is ineffective to overcome the Ryan et al. reference.

The evidence submitted is insufficient to establish diligence from a date prior to the date of reduction to practice of the Ryan et al. reference to either a constructive reduction to practice or an actual reduction to practice. The declaration indicates that from a date prior to December 17, 1999 to June 30, 2000, the invention record remained in the BOC's IP department and does not indicate that any work was performed in reducing the invention to either a constructive reduction to practice or an actual reduction to practice. Thus, there is a time period of six months in which it appears there was no diligence. It is not until August 8, 2000 that any work to reduce the invention to a constructive reduction of practice is resumed. Therefore, there is insufficient evidence to establish diligence. Since the declaration is insufficient, the rejections of the previous Office Action are maintained.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 1762

Claims 20-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Because of the dependency to claim 17, "the first and second articles" lacks antecedent basis. This confuses the scope of these claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 17-19, 24-26, 30, and 36-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ryan et al. (US 6,429,139 B1).

Ryan teaches the limitations of using the load lock chamber in the claimed manner (column 2, line 42 to column 3, line 17). The claimed limitations of moving the substrates simultaneously in a manner in which the wafers are brought closer together then rotated 180 degrees is taught (column 11, lines 29-45). All other limitations are taught within these cited paragraphs or are taught in the claims section.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 20-23, 27-29, and 31-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ryan et al. (US 6,429,139 B1), as applied to claims above, and further in view of Nishida et al. (US 4,226,208).

Ryan teaches the limitations above, but is silent to using a carrier dome. However, Nishida teaches that using a carrier dome allows for coating multiple wafers simultaneously (abstract). Therefore, it would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to use a carrier dome in the process taught by Ryan. By doing so, multiple wafers may be coated simultaneously.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
